Disclaimer: I have been told that there is a way around the bug which was the main reason for me disliking the game. Personally I have not given this a try, but if you are experiencing pathfinding issues play the game at normal speed.

The game seemed interesting however whenever I sent my people to go and do anything I would have constant pathing issues. The people would run back and forth on the spot which meant that it took much longer for me to do anything as my people wouldn't respond. The worst case of this was in a battle, I tried getting them into towers however they just kept running back and forth instead of garrisoning the towers leading to me losing most of my defences. Until this bug is fixed it is a definite no go for me even for a dollar as it was unplayable.. ok the one funny thing is how you have a engine lift for reg engines not semi engines and it would have been alot better if it would have been alot more like cms15 not cms14 cms15 blow cms14 out of the water hands down and it does say glowplug and the cost i am pretty sure that it does not only cost 500 to get the head gasket replaced but over all not bad for your first tms game hope to seen a better one in the future ty for cms 15 looking forward to the dlc turbokit. The conrtols are bonkers! Q for left instead of A. I can't even play this! OMG! Oh wait, I can change them to normal wasd, cool beans this game is awesome!

It's a fun little platformer game really.

8V10. Alice's Patchwork is either a very relaxing and enjoyable jigsaw game or hell - depending on your style of playing.

The game includes 120 various levels of beautiful pictures to solve. Some of jigsaw pieces look like glass, other like being made of clothes and other like they were sewed to a canvas. The person responsible for graphics in Alice's patchwork made a great job indeed. I admire the amount of work, the variety and the taste of colours used in for the pictures.

So why the game could be hell, you might ask.

Every level can open three locks. You get one key for completing a level, one for doing it without any mistakes and one for doing it in a proper time. The first one you get always. But the other two destroy the joy of playing completely.

First of all, there is no reference picture to look at, you are just put to almost the empty board with very few pieces at the right place. There are only few usable jigsaws visible at once and you cannot change them or scroll them. Usually, at the beginning they match absolutely anywhere. Hey, you can always use a hint! But hints are so damn expensive that requires grinding easy levels forever to get enough points to buy them.

Tick tock, you're running out of time. You can buy some more... by tons of points you don't have.

Really, programmer was a jerk. They ruined perfectly cool game with the price for hints and time. Getting the keys is fun, but only when the effort for them is reasonable.

I will give you some advise here.

Forget about getting all keys, enjoy the jigsaws and the pictures.

Or take a look at community guides.. At this time I do not recommend this game.

It has potential maybe if it ever becomes stable.

Played many hours of new games/updates and each and every time

I get a hard crash. I consider it unplayable.

I use Intel HD Graphics. Makes no difference which graphics mode is used.

I truley feel ripped with this particular game.

I am a long time gamer and can tell you for an RPG

it is the most aggravating game I ever played because of its unstable nature and all the updates probably top some record in history.. You must play this game.. I completed the game now and I must say only one word - WOW. This game is really awesome, but hard. I had to look at the Walkthrough something about 5 times, but only because of the game is really hard. Nice graphics, good gameplay, awesome atmosphere. 9.5/10. Good platformer, I appreciate the variety of levels, good game design. It's original and beautiful, great work.. This a great single player game with excellent graphics.

I loved the original Mushroom Wars, I loved Mushroom Wars Space for mobile, and I love this one. I've only had it for two days but I play every chance I get.

There is only one complaint I have about this game:

Everyone and their mother uses Rudo and it's just plain annoying, all the other heroes are fine.. I'm quite a fan of this game. I'm not going to get into too much detail about the features/pros and cons, as many other intros perfectly do that. But, I'll at least give my input.

This game combines a go-faster type playstyle with an arcadey artstyle/sound. Imagine Nuclear Throne, Monolith, and an alert bar similar to the one in Risk of Rain. My only complaints would be a slight lack of feedback when getting hit, regaining your ability, and a few other small things. I'm not going to make a complaint about a lack of content because come on, it's 5 dollars. I've enjoyed every run I play, as well as thinking of different combinations of outfits and spells, and how different upgrades fit with them. This is a great game to get if you're burnt out of everything else, or if you just want a fun, casual, and somewhat challenging experience.

Another thing I almost forgot, the music progression from floor to floor is genius, it gives off a wonderful feeling of an elevating difficulty. Although I do kinda wish the boss music for each world was an even more congested version of the world's music.

All in all, just get the game. It's 5 dollars and worth far more. Lovely job devs.. How this game was presented was simply amazing. It really was made with the upmost care and respect to those with ASD. Of course I had to play it being on the spectrum and I was disappointed. It really could be a good tool to those who might not understand Autism or who wish to understand the disorder better.. Im such a good girl.. cool game thank you. This is a game of putting together puzzles, featuring a character and series I swear I've seen somewhere before... maybe, television. Anyway, while the puzzles are fun, the color scheme is a bit.. troublesome. That said, I do find it enjoyable enough.

Also, if you have the Ultimate Pixel Puzzles game, buying this will give you these puzzles automatically, without having to buy the DLC in the Ultimate game.. Good single player but multiplier isn't a thing anymore. So if you want to play with friends might as well play something else.
